CHAPTER OF CRIMES.

Murders and Suicides at Different Places.

A BOSTON GIRL'S INSANE DEED.

The Brutally Murders Her Own Mother with a Furnace Shaker—A Georgia Man Throws His Own Child in a Well and Shoots His Sister-in-Law.

BOSTON, Nov. 1.—Mrs. Annie E. Browlee, an aged lady residing with her daughter at 66 Dana street, Cambridge, was found dead in her house yesterday morning, with her head pounded almost beyond the possibility of recognition. Mrs. Mary B. Marean, the daughter, is under arrest charged with the murder, which she admits having committed. Mrs. Marean told the police that she did not know why she had murdered her mother, and she is supposed to have been temporarily insane when she committed the deed. The instrument with which the deed was committed was a furnace shaker. The wound was a deep one on the right temple, from which the brain oozed out.

Mrs. Marean says that early yesterday morning she and her mother were chatting pleasantly when the old lady kissed her and told her she was a very dutiful daughter. The murderer then said: "As mother started to go up stairs I walked up behind her and struck her on the head with a wrench."

After the police had a talk with Mrs. Marean she apparently began to realize what she had done, breaking down and acting in a pitiable manner. It was learned in the afternoon that the woman had a severe attack of the grip two years ago and never fully recovered from its effects. Of late she has shown signs of insanity but did not seem violent and her mother had no trouble in controlling her.

The medical examiner of the district, as well as an expert on insanity, were notified of the murder and an examination of Mrs. Marean's mental condition will be made. She is about fifty years old, and is the widow of the late George B. Marean.

One of the neighbors says that Mrs. Marean came into her house yesterday morning and calmly informed her that she had killed her mother. Her bearing was so composed and she seemed so unconcerned that the neighbor thought she was only joking, but upon Mrs. Marean insisting that she spoke the truth, the neighbors went to the Marean house and there found the corpse of Mrs. Brownlee. The horrified woman quickly notified the police.

Mrs. Marean made no attempt to escape, and apparently took no interest in what was going on around her.

It seems that for a long time Mrs. Marean has been very low spirited. She seems to have had a fear lest she should die first and leave behind her poor old mother without any one to care for her. This thought so preyed upon her mind that she frequently spoke of it to others. The couple had just enough money to get along modestly, but nothing to spare. They owned the house in which they lived, which is quite a large two-story French roofed dwelling. There is no doubt about her insanity, and she will probably be committed to an asylum.

DOUBLE CRIME.

A Man Throws His Child into a Well and Shoots His Sister-in-Law.

MACON, Ga., Nov. 1.—At Louisville, Ga., a town not far from Macon, yesterday, Dr. G. W. Kelly, a prominent physician, threw his eight-year-old daughter into a well, intending to drown her, and then shot and killed his sister-in-law, who tried to prevent the perpetration of the crime. For some time past Kelly has been in a nervous condition, due to religious excitement, and has hinted at the necessity of taking the life of those who were dearest to him in order that he might preserve them from the evils of the world.

Yesterday after the commission of the crime and while his sister-in-law lay dying in the room he asserted that God had called him in his sleep to take the life of his child and sister-in-law. He appeared perfectly sane and rational at times, but then would break out into hysterical cries, appealing to those around him to know if he had not done the right thing. He appears to be sorry that the child's life was saved. Only its cries while in the well attracted the attention of the crowd of neighbors. The excitement is intense. The only thing that saved Kelly from lynching is that the doctors say he is undoubtedly a lunatic.

AFFAIRS AT HOMESTEAD.

No Change in the Condition of Things and No Further Disorder.

HOMESTEAD, Pa., Nov. 1.—The conditions existing here for the past few days remain practically unchanged. No disorder of any moment has occurred since Friday night.

Extensive improvements are in progress in the mills; the thirty-three-inch and thirty-two-inch mills are undergoing reconstruction. The changes in these departments will require about two weeks, and a large force of men are necessarily idle.

The announcement that a batch of twenty-five warrants is to be sworn out against Homesteaders on the charge of aggravated riot is causing considerable anxiety to know who the victims are.

Joseph Skewus, superintendent of the various mills of the Carnegie plant, resigned yesterday. He is considered the best roll turner in the country, and his loss is a severe one to the firm.

No More Cholera in Hamburg.

HAMBURG, Nov. 1.—Citizens are jubilant over the fact that there was not a single case of cholera nor a death from the disease in this city yesterday.

SHORT OF WATER.

All Western Pennsylvania Suffering from an Insufficient Supply.

PITTSBURG, Nov. 1.—Water is becoming a scarce article owing to the continuance of the dry weather. All over western Pennsylvania much inconvenience is being occasioned by the drying up of the sources of supply, and the precious fluid has in many instances to be transported for miles. A heavy rainfall is waited therefore with anxiety.

Along the line of the Pennsylvania between this city and Altoona the effects of the drought are particularly felt. By the railroad and a number of the towns between these points are experiencing the unpleasant sensation of having to hustle for their water supply. At two points on the Pittsburg division it is found necessary to bring water from miles away by train.

At Gallitzin, the highest point in the Allegheny mountains, water is also at a premium these days and the supply is brought by rail from Portage, ten miles distant.

The city reservoir in Altoona is proving entirely inadequate to furnish the city. In fact, but a few inches of water is in it and the reservoir of the Pennsylvania has been called upon. The same story is told in other towns.

In Greensburg the local water company is unable to furnish a full supply to its patrons, and many of them have been compelled to fall back upon their wells.

Irwin is in the same condition, as the people of that place secure their water from the same company that supplies Greensburg.

On the southwest branch of the Pennsylvania railroad the people also feel the shortage, and Scottdale and other towns are short in their supply.

In the mountains it is stated that at several places the scene of water being sold from wagons in the streets is not an unusual one.

It has been some years since the scarcity of water was as prevalent as it is now, and unless rainy weather soon makes its appearance suffering may be occasioned.

An Echo of the Itata Case.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—The United States supreme court has denied an application of the government for a writ of certiorari to remove the Itata case from the California district court to the supreme court. The California district court denied the right of the United States to forfeit the Itata, and the application for the writ of certiorari was brought with a view to preventing the case from going through the circuit court of appeals and bringing it directly before the supreme court.

Big Four Telegraphers.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 1.—A committee representing the telegraph operators employed by the Big Four railroad, met here and held a two hours' conference with Superintendent Peck and Superintendent of Telegraph Rhodes. No conclusion was reached on the matter of increased pay, but the committee expressed itself as well pleased with the treatment accorded them by the superintendents. A strike is not regarded as at all probable.

Bled to Death.

LAPORTE, Ind., Nov. 1.—A man named John Collins, while storing hay in an ice house, near this city, lost his balance and fell head foremost to the ground, a distance of twenty-four feet, breaking both wrists and rupturing a blood vessel in his chest, from the effects of which he bled to death before medical aid could be procured. He lived on fifteen minutes after his fall. The deceased leaves a wife.

Swindlers Arrested.

CHICAGO, Nov. 1.—By a clever piece of police work detectives succeeded Sunday in locating and arresting two men who have admitted their guilt and are wanted in New York for swindling Knauth, Nachod & Kuhne, bankers of 5 William st. st. out of $1,500. Their names are Ernst Schneider and Otto Stillwagen. Both left for New York Monday, accompanied by a New York officer.

Fatal Fall.

LAPORTE, Ind., Nov. 1.—Jacob Krell, a laborer, employed on the new court house, lost his balance yesterday and fell to the ground, a distance of about thirty-five feet, striking his left temple on the sharp edge of a stone, which made a hole in the side of his head. His left arm was broken above the elbow. Krell's injuries will prove fatal. His home is at Rockford, Ills.

Methodist Anniversary.

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—The old John street church, this city, bears the distinction of being the cradle of American Methodism. Beginning with a love feast Sunday morning, a celebration of the 126th anniversary of the inception of the Methodist doctrine in this country has occupied the entire day and evening, and the old church has been crowded to the doors.

Battle Between Giants.

PEORIA, Ills., Nov. 1.—Mike Queenan, the stockyard giant of Chicago, and Dick Graham, of Brooklyn, fought a finish battle near this city early Sunday morning. The men are giants. Queenan being six feet two, and his opponent two inches taller. The fight lasted four rounds, the Brooklyn man being knocked out with a terrible drive under the chin.

Miles of Fire.

BROWNSTOWN, Ind., Nov. 1.—Forest fires have broken out on the knobs, south of town. The flames are spreading fast, carrying with them untold destruction of valuable timber. Many thousand dollars' loss will result. The forest is some four miles from the city, and on high hills. At night the flames light up the surrounding country for miles.

Octogenarian Killed by the Cars.

CANTON, O., Nov. 1.—Christian Camp, of Beach City, was thrown under a Cleveland and Canton train by his horse running away and was instantly killed. He was eighty years old and leaves a family.

BURNED TO DEATH.

Four People Perish in a Burning Building.

ANOTHER ONE WILL ALSO DIE.

A Sick Woman Was Rescued from the Building in a Critical Condition from Shock—A Similar Occurrence in Ontario.

DES MOINES, Nov. 1.—The little home of George Cage, a teamster residing on Winterset road, just south of Clifton Heights, a suburb of this city, was the scene of a horrible casualty yesterday. Mr. Cage's parents, John Page and wife, returned last Thursday from Texas and with their children were staying with the son and his wife.

The younger woman gave birth to a child five days ago, and the elder woman was waiting on her. In an unmanly manner the house took fire yesterday and Mrs. John Cage and her six-months-old child and also two children of Mrs. George Cage, aged two years and five days, respectively, burned to death. John Cage inhaled the flames and will die. Mrs. George Cage, who was still ill from her recent confinement, is in a critical condition from the shock.

Four Children Burned to Death.

ALEXANDRIA, Ont., Nov. 1.—Mrs. Mercier, living near this place, went to a neighbor's, leaving four children in the house. In a short time fire was discovered in the house and men rushed to the rescue. The flames had gained too much headway, however, and the four babies, aged respectively, one and a half, two and a half, four and six years, were burned to death and their bodies reduced almost to ashes. The mother was with difficulty restrained from rushing into the burning building. It is feared she will lose her reason.

FREIGHT WRECK.

An Unknown Man Killed and Several Others Injured.

PETERSBURG, Va., Nov. 1.—In a collision which occurred at an early hour yesterday morning at Disputanta, about four miles east of Petersburg, on the Norfolk and Western railway, an unknown white man was instantly killed, his body being terribly mangled and Engineer Cummings, of Crewe, Va., and several brakemen were slightly injured.

Fourteen cars and a locomotive were badly wrecked and thrown down an embankment and the track torn up for some distance. The collision was caused by a heavily loaded cattle train breaking in twain. At the time another extra cattle train was following on behind, and the latter ran into the section of the former train which had become detached.

Earthquake Gala Week.

CHARLESTON, Nov. 1.—The war ships Vesuvius and Dolphin arrived here Sunday to participate in the festivities of earthquake gala week. Both vessels experienced rough weather off Cape Hatteras, but came on safe. The festivities open today with the formal reception of the officers of the fleet by the Gala Week association. During the week they will be taken on a deer hunt and have a ball, banquet and reception. The city officials do not take notice of visitors. The entire festival is conducted by the merchants and business men. Congressman Brawley is chairman of the committee of reception. The festivities last six days.

Farmar Attacked by a Catamount.

JEFFERSONVILLE, Ind., Nov. 1.—Harry Phipps, a farmer residing in the McBride neighborhood, three miles west of here, while on his way home last night was attacked by a catamount and his clothes torn into shreds and from his body. Phipps was badly bitten in numerous places about his person, and being unable to defend himself, he was left at the mercy of the infuriated beast until neighbors came to his rescue. This is the first animal of its kind seen in this section for twenty years.

Took Too Much Morphine.

BLUFFTON, O., Nov. 1.—Dr. James McPeak died at his home here last night from convulsions, caused by an overdose of morphine. He formerly lived on Walnut Hills, Cincinnati, but for ten years past has lived here. He graduated from the Cincinnati medical college. He was forty-five years old. He had been a morphine fiend for years. He took the dose at 4 o'clock and died four hours afterwards. He leaves a widow and three children.

Fifteen Round Prize Fight.

CONEY ISLAND, N. Y., Nov. 1.—George Godfrey, the colored man of Boston, and Joe Choyinski, the San Franciscan, fought here last night before a large audience in the Coney Island Athletic club rooms. Choyinski was declared the winner in the fifteenth round.

Waters Again Calm.

CLEVELAND, Nov. 1.—The gale on Lake Erie has subsided and the waters now are calm. The stranded steamers Pontiac and Maraba were pulled off the shore near the piers, and are apparently in good condition. The other boats that went ashore are not much injured.

Octogenarian Killed by the Cars.

CANTON, O., Nov. 1.—Christian Camp, of Beach City, was thrown under a Cleveland and Canton train by his horse running away and was instantly killed. He was eighty years old and leaves a family.

Brakeman Instantly Killed.

ENGLISH, Ind., Nov. 1.—Robert Edington, freight brakeman, fell between the cars near Milltown, and was cut in two. His remains were taken in charge by his fellow-employees.

NICARAGUAN CANAL CONVENTION.

Call Issued for One to Be Held at New Orleans, Nov. 30, 1892.

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 1.—The following call for a national Nicaraguan canal convention has just been issued by Chairman Converse:

"COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 31, 1892.

In pursuance of a resolution of the national Nicaragua canal convention held at St. Louis, June 2, 1892, and by order of the executive committee, I call upon the delegates of said convention to reassemble at New Orleans, Nov. 30, 1892, to further consider the question of the immediate construction of said canal, under the protection and control of the United States in the interests of commerce and the republics of the western hemisphere; and such other matters as may come before them.

And I request the governors of the states, municipal authorities, chambers of commerce and boards of trade to notify their respective delegates to fill vacancies of such as are unable to attend, and such public authorities and commercial bodies as have not heretofore appointed delegates that they do so at once—commercial bodies to send one delegate for each hundred members.

The importance of this great work to the people of the United States can not be overestimated, and the time being so close at hand all newspapers are requested to publish this call.

GEORGE L. CONVERSE,

Chairman Executive Committee.

COLLISION OF VESSELS.

Ferryboat Runs Into and Sinks a Tug Boat.

JERSEY CITY, Nov. 1.—The Pennsylvania ferryboat Hudson City yesterday afternoon sank the tug boat Olive Baker and the hulk now lies about 200 yards from the shore, directly in front of the Pennsylvania ferry slips. No lives were lost from the tugboat and no passengers on the ferryboat were injured, though they were badly shaken up and scared. The Hudson City continued on her way to New York, landed her passengers and then laid up at Hoboken. She is only slightly injured.

The accident was of a singular character, in that for once no one seems to have been really to blame. The Olive Baker was going down the river at the time of the accident. The Hudson City had just left her Jersey City slip; her pilot saw the Olive Baker and blew one whistle, signifying that the Hudson City would go astern. The Olive Baker was moving very slowly and seemed unable to make head against the tide. She drifted directly under the Hudson City's bow. The fixed rudder struck the Baker amidships and crashed a hole through her side. She sank in a few minutes. In the meanwhile the tugboat Essex had gone to her assistance and taken aboard the Baker's crew of seven, who were safely landed in this city.

WIPE OUT OF EXISTENCE.

In Two Hours a Little Mining Town is Destroyed by Fire.

HAZELTON, Pa., Nov. 1.—At 3 o'clock yesterday morning the house occupied by Andrew Sults, at Newbuck mountain, was discovered to be on fire. An alarm was promptly given, but the fire spread rapidly, the occupants being rescued with difficulty. A high wind was blowing and the drought-afflicted village was without water. So quickly did the flames spread that the fourteen houses composing the block were soon enveloped and in two hours the little town was razed to the ground.

Nothing could be done by the people and the sturdy miners sought only to save what household effects they could. Some succeeded in rescuing their belongings, but the greater number lost their entire furniture and clothing, practically all they possessed. The houses were built and owned by the Mill Creek Coal company and cost $5,000. They were insured.

Dying of Gangrene.

WARSAW, Ind., Nov. 1.—Mrs. Elihu Garrison, of Papaw township, this country, is dying of gangrene. Several months ago she suffered from an ingrowing nail, using a knife to pare it away. This generated a sore, the flesh turned back, and the gangrene extended to the foot. The surgeons decided on amputation, but as the lady is troubled with heart disease, and it was deemed unsafe to administer anesthetics, the operation has been deferred. The patient is too weak to stand the operation without chloroform. It is said that certain death will occur in either event. As it is, she is simply dying by inches. Mrs. Garrison is sixty-five years old.

Mr. Clement's portrayals of the various roles he assumes delight all who see amazing fertility and resources, noble sincerity, and oblivious knowledge of the tricks of acting. These he never meretriciously employs, but uses them sparingly and always with discretion. For so young an actor (Clement is only twenty-nine) he displays much temperance, which augers well for great achievements. He will appear here November 7th, in Irving's great piece "The Bells."

HOW TO VOTE,

If You Want Your Ballot to Count in the Coming Election.

An Easy Matter to Put in a Straight
Ticket—Observe the Following Instructions.

Under the new election law the tickets of all parties are printed on the same sheet, appearing in parallel columns under the party device. For want of space only the tickets of the Democratic and Republican party are given below.

Any person desiring to vote and legally entitled to vote shall give his name and residence to the clerk holding the ballots, who shall write the same upon the main stub of the ticket in the blank places provided therefor. Such officer shall then mark upon the secondary stub the voter's registered number, in all precincts in which a registration law is in and the voter should observe these instructions:

First—If the voter wishes to vote the straight Democratic ticket he can vote for every person whose name appears in the Democratic column by making a cross mark (X) with the stencil or stamp in the large square containing the rooster.
Put the mark right under the rooster's feet and as close to them as possible.

If the voter desires to vote for all the persons in the Democratic column except one or more, and wishes to vote in one or more races for the candidate of another party, he should make a cross mark (X) in the square containing the rooster, and a cross mark in the small square opposite and to the right of the name of the candidate of the other party for whom he desires to vote, and this will cast his vote for every name in the Democratic column except in the races in which he has made a cross mark (X) opposite the name of the candidate of another party.

If the voter desires to vote for all the
persons in the Democratic column except in one or more races and does not wish to vote in such races at all, for any person, he must make a cross mark (X) in the space opposite and to the right of

SATURDAY NIGHT, NOVEMBER 5, 1892.

Germantown—Speaker, County Attorney C. D. Newell.

Judge Wall and John L. Chamberlain, Esq., addressed a large meeting of the Democrats of Mason and Bracken at Woodward's School House, near Germantown, last night. The speakers received the closest attention, and out of the seventy-five voters present there were only three who expected to scratch the ticket, and they are Republicans who expected to vote for some of the Democratic nominees. Germantown promises to prove the banner precinct.

The Curtis Single X Democratic Club was organized at Oakwoods School House last night with over twenty members. President, James N. Curtis; Secretary, Emmet Bramel. W. LaRue Thomas and C. L. Sallee were the speakers. Mr. Thomas gave the audience some practical illustrations of the tariff, convincing them that the "tariff is a tax." His speech is pronounced one of the best yet made in the county. The speakers were elegantly entertained at supper by Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Marshall, of Lewisburg.

A good crowd attended the meeting at Dieterich's Grove last night, and heard two rousing addresses by Judge Phister and County Attorney Newell. A club of thirty-five was organized, with C. D. Newell as President, and E. W. Hutchison Secretary. Dieterich's will soon be well organized.

EVERY Democrat absent on business should arrange to be at home on Tuesday of next week and help elect all the nominees.

MAGAZINES of the current month have been received at the Public Library. Persons wishing to join the club should call on the Librarian.

PEARL BOWMAN, aged nine years, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bowman, of the Sixth ward, died last night, of diphtheria. Burial to-morrow morning in the cemetery.

The diamond spectacles are the best. Use no other. Being entirely free from deleterious substances, the glasses never tire the eyes or make them ache. For sale by Ballenger, the jeweler.

VOTE early. Don't wait till evening and crowd the polls. Every Democratic vote should be recorded at this election, not only on account of the merits of the candidates, but also because of the grave issues involved.

The Democrats are more sanguine than ever of carrying the entire ticket in this county. The Republicans were hoping to profit by the dissensions existing among Democrats last spring, but it is now thought harmony and united effort will crown the Democracy with victory.

A more important Presidential election than the one just before us has not occurred in the last twenty years. In view of the threatening attitude assumed by the Republican party, declaring their intention, to pass the Force bill and take control of the elections in the States, do the counting themselves, and using their influence to control the negro vote of the Southern States, it behoves the Democratic party to see to it that this iniquity be stamped out, and that henceforth no party will have the audacity to incorporate in its platform a proposition so wicked and insulting to the good sense and harmony of the American people.

PRIVATE IAMS' SUIT.

The Plaintiff Takes the Witness Stand in His Own Behalf.

PITTSBURG, Nov. 1.—The case of ex-Private W. L. Iams against Colonel W. Streator was continued yesterday. Major General George R. Snowden appeared in the court room for the first time since the opening of the trial.

Ex-Private Iams was put on the stand again and asked where he performed the picket duty before he went to sleep. He was not positive that he did perform picket duty on the night before he went to sleep.

On cross-examination, he said that he had been advised to make the suits after he was discharged. He was asked whether on the day after his punishment he had not told Hatfield he was not hurt. Witness denied having made such statement. On redirect examination Iams said that during the week prior to his discharge he had done regimental guard duty.

Frank G. Jacobs was the next witness for the prosecution. He was a private of Company K, Tenth regiment. He saw Iams in the guardhouse while on duty. He saw Iams hung up by the thumbs to the ridgepole of the tent. His thumbs were tied by a loopknot. The tips of Iams' toes alone were on the ground. Iams was spitting tobacco juice. The officer of the day gave the chew. Iams asked for it. Witness could not say whether the doctors were watching Iams or not when the tobacco was given. Almost immediately before Iams was cut down Colonel Streator said to the doctors that if the prisoner hung longer it might injure him physically. When Iams was cut down he sank to the ground. The treatment he saw was that Mr. Gladden rubbed Iams' thumbs. His hands were cold.

On cross-examination Jacobs was asked whether Colonel Streator did not come to the tent just before Iams was cut down. He could not say. He only noticed the colonel talking to the doctors. Had heard Iams call for a glass of water, which was at once given to him. Iams had then been strung up for four or five minutes. Witness did not see Iams' face at the time and did not hear him say: "When Colonel Streator got through amusing himself he could cut him down." Had heard Iams say: "If Streator expects me to take back what I said he could cut me down dead."

Robert V. Kent, Company K, Tenth regiment, was present when Iams was strung up. His testimony was mainly corroborative of the former witness. When Iams had been released and his support taken away he fell to the ground. Had also heard Colonel Streator say: "Do not let him hang long enough to do any material injury."

Iams was at once cut down. Cross examined witness said that while the man who cut down Iams had to get on a beer keg, he was much shorter than the prisoner. The day after the stringing up of Iams witness saw a guard marching with Iams in the center. The guard had bayonets on their guns. Iams was dressed in civilian clothes. The guard was made up of officers, commissioned and non-commissioned, and soldiers from the Tenth, Fourth and Fourteenth regiments and Battery C.

Judge Porter here made a rule at the request of the defendants that Iams be asked whether it was his intention in case he secured the conviction of any one of the defendants to institute civil suit for damages. He replied that it was. The court said it was a proper question under the law, but was permissible at the discretion of the court to show to the jury bias on part of the witness, who is also the prosecutor.

Alfred M. Meyers, Company K, Tenth regiment, also detailed the stringing up of Iams. Witness did not see Iams hanging over two or three minutes.

After Meyers left the stand, Private Kent was recalled by the prosecution. Kent was asked if he had heard Colonel Streator say anything threat against the welfare of Iams. Kent replied that Streator had said upon Monday night, succeeding the day of the punishment, that he (Iams) had better keep out of his way or he would shoot him if he could hit at forty yards. This remark was made upon Colonel Streator hearing a rumor that Iams intended shooting Streator on sight. The defense asked if this rumor had been heard by witness. "Yes," replied Kent, "but I did not hear it from Iams."

J. H. Gladden, the nurse who revived Iams, then took the stand. He had seen them take Iams and tie him up by the thumbs, but only watched the proceedings a few minutes as the sight sickened him. He had ran toward Iams when the latter was cut down and fainted. He administered whisky and ammonia upon instructions from Dr. Grimm. He spoke to Dr. Grimm after Iams had recovered consciousness, and in reply to his remark that Iams was pretty sick, Dr. Grimm had said: "Yes, but he swallowed a chew of tobacco."

The next witness called was E. E. Critchfield, of Mount Pleasant, inspector of rifle practice of the Tenth regiment. Critchfield attempted to illustrate to the jury Iams' position as he was hanging by the thumbs, telling how easy it was, when the court ordered him to stop his argument. During the cross-examination Critchfield was asked by Attorney Watson for the defense, where he received his military education. Critchfield said it was not in Battery B. Attorney Watson was an old military man once himself and a prominent member of Battery B.

Critchfield's reply to the attorney's question caused the spectators, mostly witnesses, to break out with applause. The court was shocked and ordered the tipstaffs to arrest every person noticed taking part in the disorder. One young man from Butler was arrested, he being the only one the tipstaffs were sure of. He said he meant no disrespect to the court. He was ordered to enter bail for his appearance in court today. Court then adjourned.
